RUSSIA AND CHINA.

There has been great excitement in political circles during the last month on account of a report published in the Times that Russia had concluded a secret treaty with China, by which she was to get possession of Port Arthur and construct a railway from Russian territory into China. The effect of this would be to give Russia almost absolute control over China. The report has been denied on what professes to be authority, but an uneasy feeling prevails that somehow or other Russia has got the better of the other European powers in the financial and political adjustments which have taken place. This report has been much commented on during the month, and the strongest protests have been uttered against the policy; and, indeed, until the contradiction appeared, the London press seemed almost in a panic on the subject.
Let us hope there is no truth in it, and that the danger of an opening of more eastern questions than the one which has given Europe so much trouble may be averted.

INDIAN HEAD ITEMS.

A Few Local and Personal Paragraphs From Our Neighbor Down the Line.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. W. H. Noble of Rothsay, Ont., who spent the last three months here, returned home on the 25th inst. He was glad to see the rapid development which had been made since his last visit seven years ago. Mr. Noble, who is an intelligent observer, stated to your correspondent that no part of the Northwest could excel the Qu'Appelle district for grain growing and that its fame is well known far and near. Speaking of the Experimental farm, he said that the institution was of incalculable benefit, which should be duly appreciated by every intelligent agriculturist in the Territories. He stated, with emphasis, his admiration of the high state of efficiency of our public schools and the deep interest taken in the cause of education by all classes, irrespective of nationality or creed. He spoke in glowing terms of the rapid progress which is being made in the industrial schools in the training of Indian children, which reflected much credit on the Indian department. In alluding to the Northwest as a suitable field for energetic settlers, he said it was a noble heritage, having a grand future, whose early development depended on the united efforts of every true and patriotic Canadian.
Mr. Archibald Campbell of Glen Huron, Ont., who came to this district in July last, left for home on the 23d inst. He likes the Northwest very much and intends to return in March next, to engage in agricultural pursuits.

AGRICULTURAL CANADA.

In spite of the hard times that have characterized the farmers' position for several years past, the majority of them have met adversity with a stout heart, and the present year's crop will in a great measure compensate for the past and give them a zest for renewed energy in the future. Where there is a full determination to succeed there can be no such word as fail, and those who have stuck stanch to the seemingly sinking ship, will come safe and sound into port at last. C. C. James, deputy minister of agriculture for Ontario, very truly remarks that the wealth of every country is a product to which all classes contribute, or should contribute. If, however, we trace it back to its source, we shall find that four streams contribute to the volume, namely, the product of the farm, the forest, the fisheries, and the mine. The variations in our national wealth, and the general condition of our national wealth are controlled largely by these four sources. In Canada, these four great industries give employment to a very large portion of our population. In 1891, out of 1,653,355 workers in all classes, 790,210 were engaged in agriculture, fishing, mining and lumbering. The 790, 210, forming nearly one-half the total workers, were divided into the following classes: Agricultural,

783,208; fishing, 27,079; mining, 15,168; lumbering, 12,756. The annual agricultural production of Canada amount to about $500,000, 000 in value; the forest products, $80,000,000; the mineral products, $20,000,000. It will thus be seen that the four streams or fountain sources of wealth aggregate $620, 000,000 a year, and that four-fifths of the total volume come from the farm. No wonder, then, that when agriculture prospers our whole country prospers, and that Thanksgiving Day is postponed until the year's harvests have been gathered and the farmer has balanced his ledger. The times have been hard —unusually hard—and have weighed excessively upon the farmers of Canada, and yet they have not lost heart. The farmers of Canada come from hardy stock, the best of the yeomanry of England, Scotland, Ireland, and Germany, in addition to the thrifty French-Canadians, who may be considered almost as being native to the soil. When these nationalities shall have coalesced, the product will be a rural people unexcelled, if not unequalled.

WHAT with foreign competition and the generally low prices obtained for produce in England, where the middleman absorbs so much of the profit, farmers in some parts are getting in a sorry plight.
A landowner in East Kent has just received notice to quit from the whole of his farm tenants, who assert that at present prices they could not farm at a profit if they had the land free, and who, therefore, it may be assumed, would not renew their leases. On another Kentish estate fourteen tenants are leaving, and in the Isle of Thanet thousands of acres must go out of cultivation unless people can be induced to occupy the holdings recently vacated. Of this there seems very little prospect. And yet Kent is a favored county, rightly described as "the garden of England." So much for free trade.

CONSUMPTION CONQUERED.

A E. ISLAND LADY RESTORED TO HEALTH.

Attacked With a Hackney Cough, Loss of Appetite and General Feeling of Lassitude—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Her Health After Six Months' Illness.

From the Charlotte Harbor, Fla.

Times without number have we read of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but generally the testimonials telling the tale had laid the scene in some of the other countries. This time, however, the matter is brought directly home, and the testimony comes from a most respected and Christian woman, Mrs. Sarah Strickland, now residing in the suburbs of Charlotte Harbor, Fla. She has been married many years and blessed with a large family and although never enjoying a robust constitution had, until a year ago been in comparatively good health. About that time she began to feel "run down," her blood became thin and a general feeling of lassitude took possession of both her mind and body. Her family and friends viewed with alarm the gradual development of her illness, and when a cough—at first inoperative but afterwards almost constant, especially at night—set in, doctors were summoned, and everything that loving tender care and medical skill could do was resorted to in order to save the affectionate wife and mother, whose days appeared to be numbered. Her appetite was almost completely gone, food was taken without relish, and Mrs. Strickland was unable to do even the ordinary, lighter work of the household. She became greatly emaciated and in order to partake of even the most dietary nourishment, a stimulant had to be first administered. While this gloom hung over the house the mother sorrowfully thought of how she would have to say farewell to her young family, she was induced by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Through their encouragement and almost disgusted with medicine, she yielded more in a friendly way than in a hopeful spirit. After using the pills for some short time a gleam of hope, a wish that well had taken possession of her and the treatment was cheerfully continued. It was no false feeling but a genuine effort nature was making to re-assess itself, and before many days were used the family were taking their meals about her appetite, her disappearing cough, and the fright she had given them. The use of the Pink Pills was continued for some time longer and now Mrs. Strickland's elastic step and general, excellent health, would lead you to imagine that you were going upon a different woman, not one who had been watched from the jaws of death. She was never in better health and spirits and no matter what others say she is true in her belief that Pink Pills saved her life and restored her to her wonted health and strength.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an unfailing cure for all troubles resulting from poverty of blood or shattered nerves, and when given a fair trial they never fail in cases like that above related. Sold by all druggists or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Scarborough, N. Y. See that the registered trademark is on all packages.

RULES VERNE'S DREAM.

Another Frenchman solves the Problem of Sub-Marine Locomotion.

A sub-marine boat has just been completed by M. Combet, of Paris, on the same plan as the one which, it is claimed, solves the problem of sub-marine locomotion. It is a cigar-shaped, twenty-six feet long and nearly six feet in diameter, and weighs ten tons. It is divided into three portions, and everything is arranged so that heavy articles can be kept in their places, so that no risk will be run of disturbing the balance essential to stability, the craft always keeping parallel with the surface. It is the impossibility claimed for the boat which constitutes one of the most important features of the sub-marine craft. Hitherto these boats have been built only to be sent down or brought up while in motion, but this boat, the inventor maintains, can be maneuvered in one spot by the skilful working of pumps and arranging of water ballast, so as to meet the necessary requirements. A weight of 2,000 pounds is attached to the keel in such a manner that it can be got rid of at any moment. In the event of a sudden rise to the surface being imperative, the boat would respond to the call with the lightness of cork. Compressed air contained in steel tubes is supplied by a pump, and the removal of vitiated air. Thus it is calculated that a crew of three persons might stay in under water from twelve to fifteen hours without danger. It will be propelled by a one-horse power electric motor at a speed of nine knots. For a boat accommodating only three persons, only twenty-five horse power would be required. The boat has been constructed for naval purposes and material for bettering off by the simple pushing of a trigger is provided. Trials of the boat were made in the Seine a few days ago.

NOW ON BATTLE.

Preparing for decisive Engagement in Cuba.

Dispatches received at Madrid from Havana say that insurgent leader Rollo, is at Sagunto, province of Santa Clara, awaiting Maximilian Gomez, who recently entered the province at the head of a force of insurgents with a intent of advancing upon the city of Santa Clara, the headquarters of Captain General Martin D. Campos, who is preparing to give battle to the combined insurgent forces. Campos is now on the way to Sagunto and a most important engagement is expected. Gomez recently changed his tactics of attempting to tire out the Spanish troops, owing to the decision of the Cuban revolutionary assembly in New York, which considers it

COMPLETE CONFESSION.

The Whole Story of the Montreal Incendiarism Told in Court.

HAYNES, one of the prisoners charged with firing the establishment of Boyd, Gillies & Co., Montreal, has made a complete confession to the court of queen's bench. Last January Boyd told Haynes he had lost $1,000 on the year's business. Boyd was anxious the entire crowd should see his stock for nothing. He expressed a wish that the old books of the firm could be got rid of, and said if they were but in the cellar and a fire started it would be a good thing. Boyd thought he had to do this and shortly afterwards meeting a friend named Jenkins, the same as now on trial with him for arson, he mentioned the matter to Jenkins, who said if the old man wanted fire he could get somebody to do it for him. Haynes told this to Boyd and Boyd told him to arrange a meeting. At the meeting Jenkins asked $5,000 for starting the fire. Boyd said this was too much, and added he would do it himself only he would be the first suspect. Finally he agreed to give Jenkins ten per cent on the insurance. Extensive preparations were then made for fraud as well as arson. Employees who knew the amount of the stock were discharged. A new set of account books were bought and accounted for. The stock on hand being represented at $25,000 instead of $15,000. Haynes assisted in the falsification. Jenkins did the firing.

A TELEPHONE IN THE STOMACH.

Unusual Phenomena of Human Nature.

In an age when that subtle force electricity is presenting wonders to the world almost daily, and the Wizard of Menlo Park has become the hero of the hour, there seems to be nothing that we may not expect in this direction. But it was not left to Edison to establish a telephone in the stomach of human beings. The great Maker of man in the economy of human nature provided such an instrument centuries ago. It is a fact that within the stomach of every man and woman there is a little instrument that telephones to the nerve centres in the brain as quickly as any food reaches that part. When for any reason this communication is stopped, food is indigestible and physical troubles ensue. With word promptly sent from stomach to nerve centres, these supply the necessary juices that aid digestion, and nature successfully does her part, good health is enjoyed and the man is able to perform every duty with the efficiency of a machine. POOR FISHING.

Newfoundland Fleet Had Unfavorable Weather in Davis Strait.

The steamer Aurora returned to Newfoundland the other day from the whale fisheries of Davis Strait. No black fish were killed, but 200 porpoises were captured. The crew of the Aurora reports that the Dundee fleet met with equally poor success, having lost three whales among them. The Aurora met with most unfavorable weather. She was caught on an ice field and for a time the crew feared that they would be compelled to abandon her. While making preparations to beach her cargo a fire started in the cabin and much difficulty was experienced in preventing it from communicating with the oil tanks, where eighty tons of porpoise oil had been stored. Had this oil ignited it would have caused immense destruction and damage to the ships crowded in the harbor. Members of the crew of the steamer Aurora report that they saw nothing of Nansen's vessel during this trip. They also fear that the Dundee fleet has been caught in the ice and that the boats will be compelled to remain frozen all winter.

AN INDIGNANT JUDGE.

The Jury Rendered a Verdict a Contrary to His Instructions.

A British Columbia jury will not hang a man for killing his wife's paramour in the trial of Jno. Smith vs. Benson, just concluded at Vancouver, B. C., in which the prisoner's wife confessed that Smith caught her in Benson's arms, and killed her with a mallet and whose story was corroborated by children of the prisoner and Mrs. Smith. The trial caused great excitement. The court house was densely packed. The crowd cheered on hearing the verdict. Judge Walsman, who had charged strongly against the prisoner, was very indignant. He said: "It was unheard of, a British audience doing such a thing." They only did that in the States." He ordered the court room cleared. When the prisoner was discharged he told him and the jury he thought differently from what the jury did, and when the prisoner, at the advice of his counsel, started to shake hands with the jury, his rage knew no bounds. "Oh, get out of here!" he shouted at the jurated man; "Get out of my sight! Get out of the building!" Another Yankee notion shaking hands with the jury, indeed! You'll want to shake hands with me next, gentlemen of the jury, you're discharged.

It's on Yale.

The last day of the Christian Worker's convention, held recently at New Haven, Conn., contributed the most sensational episode of the term. Mrs. Poter, wife of Rev. F. M. Poter, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, where the convention is being held, during an address said she would send a son of mine to Yale college. I make this statement before newspaper reporters, and I would make it to President Dwight himself," she said she had seen many Christian young men raised with Yale, the first year they were good, the second they had pipes in their mouths, and the fourth they had disappeared.

A NOVEL NEWSPAPER.

Six Thousand Subscribers Get Their News by Telephone.

It was Bellamy, who in his fancy sketch of a socialist paradise had the news of the day distributed by telephones instead of newspapers. This part of his fancy is already an accomplished fact in Budapest, Hungary. An account of the arrangement is given in Electricity. Here it is: Budapest is the only city in the world that can as yet boast of a telephone newspaper. The idea of diffusing unwritten news was originated by the Hungarian, Theodore Albert Poles, and the Telephone Hiramondo (Herald) has now been working successfully for over two years. The 6,000 subscribers are served by one wire measuring 108 miles in length, and running across the windows of the subscribers. Each subscriber forms a station, and a separate line is connected with each station by means of a special apparatus, so that the main line is not affected if there is a block at one of the stations.

The bulletin are carefully edited and arranged in an orderly program. The staff is on duty from 7:30 in the morning until 9:30 in the evening, during which time twenty-eight editions are spoken into the transmitter. Ten men with strong voices, clear and distinct, act as speakers, and take their turn in shifts of two at a time. One of these speaks a series of items, but for no longer than eight or ten minutes, and every item is introduced by the word "news." To avoid confusion when news is given, the subscribers are kept informed with vocal and instrumental concerts. Connection have been made with the opera house and music halls, so that operas, as well as concerts, given in various parts of the town, are transmitted to the subscribers who are able to listen to the strains of some favorite melody. The same arrangement has been made with the principal churches for Sundays and saints' days, especially for the Easter festival. The Budapest concert is a somewhat listless affair throughout the whole municipality, and even beyond its borders.

ORDERLY LYNCHING.

A NEGRO TAKEN FROM JAIL AND HANGED TO A TREE.

Those Entrusted With the Duty of Maintaining the Peace and Order Performed Their Work With Neatness and Dispatch. Prayer Preceded the Final Act.

James Goings, a negro, of Frederick, Md., recently assaulted Miss Lillie Jones at the House of Hamilton Gensert, near that city. Goings was taken from jail by a mob of three hundred men and dragged to a tree in a field on the left of a turnpike, one mile from the city. A report reached the city about midnight that the woman had died from cuts and the beating inflicted by the negro, and this information the men who had been gathered on the streets in the morning of the outrage. A mob was quickly gathered and marched to the jail and the work of battering in the doors at once began. Fifty shots were fired from the windows above by Sheriff A. H. Zimmermann and his deputies, but the mob paid no attention to the firing and went on with their work. The jail bell was rung to summon assistance, but none came. In twenty minutes the large door panels gave way under the heavy blows and the mob burst into the corridor. They quickly overcame the slight resistance. The officers on the outside had lowered an electric lamp near the jail and cut the rope from it, extinguishing the light. Goings was led out and the howls of the mob and he was lowered to the ground by a rope. He protested his innocence as they dragged him along, and begged them not to kill him. He was promptly recognized by a number of men who knew him and the mob did not hesitate in their work. Arrived at the tree the negro was asked to confess, but this he would not do. The officers of the Salvation Army asked to be allowed to pray with him, and their request was granted. The Lord's prayer was then repeated and negro and most of the crowd joined in, voices few and hands were raised, and the rope was drawn around his neck. A man seized the other end of it, climbed the tree and threw the cord over a limb. "Let him go," was shouted, and the man let him go. He was jerked from his feet and hung dangling in the air for six feet from the ground. One shot was fired into his body and in a few minutes he was dead. The mob during the process of lynching observed order, none being allowed to fire at him except the one. A member of the mob made a brief speech in which he said that the negro was a wicked man, and that he was there with the unfortunate wretch, not in a spirit of malice but to make an example of him and to teach his race that they must leave the women of Frederick alone. The crowd then sang a hymn and the negro's death was a cruel and dastardly one. Miss Jones has thirteen children and still women in her body, where he looked at her with a knife and dagger. She says he asked for something to eat and when she gave it to him, he said, "I will give you a dollar if you will scream and run down the garden, the negro, however, overtook her, knocked her down, and cut her, also crushing her nose. The mob in which the negro was lynched is the same mob that killed the woman of Frederick, B. C., after watching the body hanging for a few minutes the crowd left it dangling there and disappeared.

QUITE DEFENCELESS.

Are the Sea Coast Cities of the U. S. Entirely Without Defenses?

Senator Nelson C. Squire, of Seattle, Wash., chairman of the senate committee on coast defense, who will leave in a few days for Washington, has very decided views concerning the Alaska boundary dispute. He is by no means pleased with the present outlook. "This country must wake up immediately to the knowledge of its defenceless condition," he said. "Several years ago a senate committee on coast defense, recommended to the senate the establishment of a cannon factory on the Pacific coast. I reported a bill from committee and it was passed. Very few people are aware of the fact that the old fortification and old cannon that is mounted on our sea coast forts are useless against modern ships of war. They are almost as effective as pistol weapons. The only thing that so far as I am aware there is in the United States supplied with heavy guns of modern calibre and that is at Sandy Hook. This constitutes the whole modern land defence of the great city of New York. It is true, however, that the city of New York has been commenced at Boston and San Francisco, but appropriations of congress have been absolutely inadequate for the protection of the sea coast cities from destruction by a foreign enemy."

Recent surveys show that over one-sixth of the state of Oregon, something over 10,000,000 acres, is covered with dense forests.

DROPPED TO DEATH.

TWENTY-THREE PERSONS PLUNGED INTO AN ABYSS.

An Electric Motor Car Ran Through a Draw Bridge and Fell Over a Hundred Feet Into the River Below—Passengers Pinned in and Drowned.

A heavy electric motor car, containing between twenty and thirty passengers went through the draw of the central viaduct at Cleveland, Ohio, the other evening and dropped one hundred and one feet to the river below. Every passenger in the car was killed. The central viaduct is a huge still bridge, 3,000 feet long, made of iron. It connects the heights and the Prospects resident section on the south side, with the business centre of the city. It is over the river is a drawbridge of the Pivot swinging pattern, this is 101 feet above the surface of the water. The south side street railway passes over the bridge. On either side of the draw is a safety switch which unless the conductor alights and takes a handle will end a car into the bunter instead of allowing it to go on the draw. First reports from the scene of the disaster seem to place the blame on the conductor. They were to the effect that the ill-fated motor car, containing between twenty and thirty people, approached the draw just as a vessel was nearing it, and the bridge attendants had closed the big iron gates and were preparing to swing the draw. As is the rule, the car stopped and the conductor went forward to release the switch in case the way was clear. He must have been blinded by the electric lights, for an eye witness declares that although the gates were closed and the draw was already in motion, the conductor raised the switch handle. The motorman applied the current and the car shot forward and struck the gate with a crash. There was only a moment's pause and then the heavy car ground its way through the wreckage and the conductor and his hands off the black above, amid the screams and struggles of the passengers, who at the first intimation of danger rushed for the rear door. The car struck the water with a great splash and then there was silence.

Soon men began to rush about shouting, and police, patrol wagons and ambulances were soon flying to the spot in response to telephone calls. In an incredible short space of time the work of rescue had begun. As the car went over the bridge it always the motor man jumped from the vestibule front. He fell upon the abutment of the bridge, his skull being crushed by the fall. All the other occupants of the car, with the exception of the few who had managed to jump to the river bank, were down to certain death. Their bodies disappeared from sight as soon as it struck the water, and everyone of the passengers were drowned.

The alarm which was sent out brought to the scene a half dozen ambulances, the fire boats and the members of the life saving crew with grappling irons. Within five minutes after the accident, the surface of the river revealed nothing of the terrible tragedy that had just been enacted. The waters had closed over the car and its passengers, and the work of rescuing the bodies in the uncertain light was slow indeed. At 9 o'clock half a dozen bodies, that had evidently floated out of the car and risen to the surface, were taken from the river, and carried to the various morgues.

The news of the terrible accident spread like wild fire through the city, and a large crowd soon gathered on the bridge and along the banks of the river. They could do nothing, however, but wait the slow work of grappling for the bodies.

The scenes about the river while the work of rescue was being prosecuted was pathetic in the extreme. The thousands of the people who had assembled waited in vain for the discovery of the car and its passengers, and out of respect for the unfortunate dead, but very little noise was made. Occasionally the wild scream of some frantic woman who believed someone dear to her was among the unfortunate ones, would be heard, but these were taken up by some other woman whose heart was breaking over her loss. The bodies were passed from the fire boats to the willing hands on shore. An aisle was made, and the bodies passed along. Every few feet a woman would step out from the crowd and peer into the face of one of the bodies, and say, "It's not he, thank God," she would say. And so the sad procession moved on.

As the body of a young boy was taken from the fire boat, an old lady nearly fell in her anxiety to see the face of the dead boy. "He could not be put back," she threw herself on the body, looked into the face and cried, "Thank God." Falling upon her knees, she raised her voice to heaven and prayed for a mother could under the circumstances. Presumably among the dead were anywhere from 1,000 to 2,000 people. Those who could see her raised their hats and a few pined her in prayer.

Another spot two men were trying to hold an almost drowned woman. She believed her husband was in the ill-fated car, and was almost insane with grief. All the time the search was going on cars kept running over the viaduct. Both rails from the west to the east approach the bridge, and the cars were full of people. In the centre of the bridge, women and children, went this way and that screaming, jostling one another, women tearing their hair and calling upon God to save their dear ones. Women were being trampled upon by the mad rushing and rushing crowd. It was impossible to keep any kind of order and the effort was finally abandoned. It was a crowd with a common grief. Not one of the multitude knew that perhaps a mother, mother, father or sister was at the bottom of the river. Everybody tried to sympathize with everybody else, and as a result it was hard to distinguish anyone.

A. A. A. took this winter. In the letter in which he makes the application he writes that he ascribes his rather shaky performance of the past two years or so to lack of training, or rather to a lack of proper practice. Donahoe states that if the privileges of the track are granted he will be willing to take part in any races which the Montreal Toboggan club may arrange. In reply a letter has been sent to him to the effect that if he will join the M. A. A. A. links as a common everyday member he will be allowed all the time and all the rest he can possibly want to practice on. This means that Donahoe will make his headquarters all the winter in Montreal. A similar letter has also been received from Neilson, who also intimates his intention of coming here—Montreal Star.

CABMEN ON STRIKE.

Over a Thousand of Gotham's Jehu's Quit Work.

The cab drivers employed by the stable of Seach & Son, New York, all went on strike the other day and now all the Liberty Bazaar association cabmen and the stable men of the Rising Sun association have been ordered to stop work and to inaugurate a sympathetic strike to support the demands of their fellows. Until recently the strike had not assumed serious proportions although the Seach stables had been besieged by cabmen and police protection had been necessary for the men who took their places. A few nights ago, however, the cab business of the city was nearly at a standstill. The number of cabmen who left their seats in response to the organizations' order is estimated at from 800 to 1,000, and several hundred cabmen have been ordered to leave the city. The cab service of most of the hotels and theatres has been cut off. The original cause of the strike was the employment of non-union men at the stables where the trouble started. The strikers say they do not insist upon Mr. Seach employing union men only, but they desire all non-union men employed by him to join the union, and if they refuse that they be discharged.

MUST PAY TAXES.

A Fifteen Year's Resistance to be at Last Broken.

One hundred and six officers and men of Princess Louise Dragoons and the Forty-third battalion left Ottawa recently by special train for Leno station. They are equipped with a complete winter outfit, and an effort will be made to compel the defaulting tax payers of Leno township to pay up. The military expedition has created great excitement, hundreds assembling at the station to see the troops off. Reports from Leno indicate bad feeling among the settlers, but in a fact to be made out of it, it is not expected there will be any bloodshed. It is questionable, however, whether the military authorities will be able to destroy anything for takes, as the defaulting settlers have driven their live stock into the mountains and hidden their household effects. The expedition will cost Ottawa county $200 a day or probably ten times more than the sums owing. The Quebec government feels that these people who have defied the laws for fifteen years must be brought to task.

CIVIC REFORM.

Two Radical Proposals Before the Toronto City Council.

The committee of council of civic reform, and citizens' committee on the same subject, held long sessions the other afternoon, and adopted proposals looking to an entire reorganization of municipal government. The citizens committee endorsed the report of the sub-committee, outlined a few days ago, lengthening the aldermanic term to two years and appointing a board of administration of three members to act as an executive, the same to be elected by the voters, and elected by the council. This plan involves wiping out all committees. The plan of the council committee is to the same effect, save that it continues the committees, which will be controlled by a board of administration. The city council will consider both schemes next week. One or the other is certain to be adopted.

A Couple of Colorado Rubbers Got Away With $20,000.

The express office of the Santa Fe depot at Colorado Springs, Col., was robbed of $20,000 the other night. Immediately after the departure of the night express at 9:15 George Knott, express agent, stepped from the platform into the office, and was confronted by two masked men, who levelled revolvers at his head and ordered him to open the safe. This he did, they helping themselves to two packages of money, containing $5,000 and $15,000, respectively. The money was a part of a consignment of $20,000, the remainder of which was in the safe, but not found. Officers are scouring the country in hopes of capturing the robbers.
